WE ALL HAVE THOUGHTS.

Like seeds, our thoughts grow depending on their environment.

One environment for our thoughts is the network we use. We all use networks differently.

The choices you make about where to plant, upload, and share your thoughts affect and impact this viral world.

How do you manage your network?

MAINSTREAM DEFINITION

network: a group or system of interconnected people or things; a system of computers that are joined together so that they can communicate by exchanging information and sharing resources; network connection occurs through a wired and/or wireless network
